DAIL AGAIN IN SECRET SESSION

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Dublin, Dec. 15.—Tension between the Sinn Féin factions over the Irish peace treaty was at fever height when Dail Eireann met again in secret session today to continue the deliberations broken off late last night.

Efforts to effect a compromise over the rival forces headed by Eamonn de Valera and Michael Collins, apparently made little headway.

De Valera won another "moral victory" when he succeeded in having today's session held in secret. Collins and Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Féin, attempted to have an open session today, but were defeated.

It is likely that an open session will be held tomorrow and that a vote on ratification of the peace settlement will take place before Saturday.

Irish newspapers take the view that ratification should be based only upon the merits of the treaty. They contend that it was wrong to bring up the issue whether the Irish peace delegates exceeded their instructions. This view, it is understood, is held by a number of the members of Dail Eireann. They contend that, if the treaty is acceptable to the people, it should be ratified regardless of the manner in which it was signed.

A large crowd began gathering about University College Building long before 11 o'clock, the hour for the opening of the third session of Dail Eireann. The leaders were cheered as they entered.

At the two sessions of Dail Eireann on Wednesday, De Valera led his fight in person. While Collins, Griffith and the bulk of the Irish Republican army chiefs favor ratification, leadership of the pro-treaty faction was taken by Collins. It was evident today that a bitter political feud is brewing between De Valera and Collins.

ARTIFICIAL LIGHTS BRING HIGH PRICED EGGS

Make Hens Lay When Eggs Are Scarce—No Effect in Year's Total.

Accord, Dec. 15.—The Program Committee of the Poultry Club was exceedingly fortunate in being able to secure Mrs. Oscar Hornbeck and Frederick Davis, both successful poultry keepers of Stone Ridge, as speakers at their monthly meeting held at Accord last week.

Mrs. Hornbeck has carried on some interesting experiments and discussed some of them in detail, telling the audience the results and giving explanatory figures. One of her experiments was the comparison of profits derived from pens of twenty each of early, medium and late moulters, together with figures showing cost of feed consumed, number of eggs produced, selling price of eggs and profits on the sales of eggs. The result showed that the late moulters was by far the most profitable bird to keep. Successful method of brooding and rearing chicks was also discussed. A number of questions were asked by those present and gladly answered by Mrs. Hornbeck.

Mr. Davis spoke on "Artificial Lighting of Poultry Houses," giving comparative figures showing the difference in egg production and profits from sale of eggs by pens of the same number of birds, one pen being artificially lighted and the other having daylight only. The result of the experiment was decidedly in favor of the artificially lighted pen.

Mr. Davis explained that by the use of artificial lights during the shortest days of the year he simply gave the hen a chance to consume more food thereby enabling her to produce more eggs at the season when the price of eggs is high. During the spring season, he stated that egg production would drop and that the yearly production would be about the same as without lights. It was his opinion that the use of lights had absolutely no effect on the hen and that by their use he did not force the hen to work any harder, but simply induced her to lay more eggs when the market price is high but not also a larger yearly production. He also answered questions asked by the audience on numerous phases of the poultry industry and all present were highly satisfied with their evening.

5-5-3 RATIO IS AGREED UPON

With Each of Nation's Retaining Different Ships Than at First Proposed—Japs to Keep Mutsu.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Dec. 15.—The "Big Three" of the armament conference, Hughes, Balfour Kato, have reached a complete agreement on the all-important question of naval ratio, and it is now only a matter of hours and details until a plenary session is called to announce the terms publicly.

The 5-5-3 ratio stands, as originally proposed, but there has been realignment of the ships that will comprise the navies of the three great powers. The exact shifts that have been agreed upon, have not been officially made known, but it is accepted that Japan has won her fight to retain the battleship Mutsu, and the United States and Great Britain will retain commensurate new tonnage to offset this concession.

The changes agreed upon however, do not affect the basic ratio of 5-5-3.

EARLY EVENING FIRE IN BUTLER'S STORE ON BROADWAY

Sparks From Fireplace Cause—Damage $200.

Fire which started in an unused fireplace in the grocery store of Arthur E. Butler at No. 148 Broadway, opposite Rogers street, caused an alarm of fire to be turned in from Box 43. At 6:50 o'clock Wednesday evening, to which the fire department responded and by their work prevented what might have proven a bad fire.

The upper floor above the store is occupied as living apartments and it is thought that a fire started in the fireplace upstairs had caused some sparks to drop to the fireplace in the store, which was boarded up, igniting the wood work. At the time Mr. and Mrs. Butler had closed up for the evening and gone to their home on Staples street.

The fire was confined to the small apartment in which the fireplace was located and was eating through the wood work into the store when discovered. The prompt work of the firemen in extinguishing the blaze kept the fire damage down to about $200.

WILSON ASKS FOR COPY OF TREATY

Evidence Seen That He Is Much Interested in New Pact and May Influence Its Fate in Senate—Silent for Present.

(Copyright 1921, by I. N. S.)

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Dec. 15.—Woodrow Wilson has sent for a copy—a certified copy—of the new four-powered treaty of the Pacific.

He asked one of his senatorial friends at the capital today, to get him one, and also to get him a copy of the new directory of the sixty seventh congress. He would like them as soon as possible.

Whether this request on the part of the former president presages his intention of re-engaging in the political turmoil on the bill, none of his friends would say today, but it was taken as proof positive that the influence of Woodrow Wilson will make itself felt in the treaty discussion that lies ahead.

For the time being Mr. Wilson and his friends at the capital are counseling silence on the question of ratification of the new four-power Pacific pact. They want time to consider the developments of the last four weeks before committing themselves to any line of action.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

"Every church is asked to hold itself responsible for the adequate care of its own people who are in trouble," said the appeal, coming from John M. Moore, chairman of the unemployment commission of the Federated Council of Churches.

The churches were also asked to cooperate with local social agencies, establish loan funds and prevent emigration of unemployed from their home communities. The appeal characterized the unemployment situation as "of great magnitude."

NAVIGATION ON UPPER HUDSON RIVER IS ABOUT CLOSED

The Rondout creek was again froze over during Wednesday night, but the ice was broken up when the steamer Pouchkepsie, of the Central-Hudson line, steamed into the creek early this morning. The ice in the slip between the coal trestle and the Island Dock was strong enough to support the weight of a man and several walked over it this morning.

Navigation on the upper Hudson river was practically closed today when the steamer J. H. Tremper, of the Central-Hudson line, made her last trip up the river to Troy, and returns Friday to Newburgh. The steamer Trojan, after discharging freight at Troy this morning, returned to Albany and tied up for the winter.

The steamer Rensselaer, of the Hudson Navigation Company, made its last trip of the season to New York Wednesday afternoon. It will tie up in New York for the winter.

Navigation on the lower Hudson between this port and New York will continue until stopped by the ice, the steamer Pouchkepsie, of the Central-Hudson line, making a trip every day.

The coal trestle of the North River Coal Company on the Rondout creek closed down for the season several days ago.

MAYOR CRANE'S CABINET AS NAMED BY DAME RUMOR; SEVERAL CHANGES

Some Will Retain Jobs Under Incoming Administration is Street Talk—Canfield to Appoint Brinnier on Education Board to Succeed Atkins—Crane Will Appoint Two Women.

Mayor-elect Walter P. Crane will announce his appointments the first of the year of those who will have control of the various departments of the city government. In the meantime Dame Rumor has been busy selecting those who will be appointed to the various offices. While many rumors have been current, the most authentic seems to be those mentioned below:

City historian—Judge A. T. Clearwater, re-appointed.

City clerk—Fred H. Doremus, re-appointed.

Deputy city clerk—Joseph D. Turner, re-appointed.

Corporation counsel—Judge Walter N. Gill.

City treasurer—John M. Cashin.

Special city judge—Robert G. Groves.

City Engineer—Street Superintendent.

The appointment of city engineer and street superintendent is controlled by the board of public works. There will be only one vacancy on that board, that of Henry R. Brinnier, whose term expires December 31. Who Mayor Crane will appoint to fill the vacancy is not known, and even Dame Rumor has not been able to make a definite announcement.

It is quite likely that the board of public works will re-appoint Edward B. Cadwiler, city engineer, and W. Scott Van Keuren, street superintendent.

Brinnier On Education Board

It is understood that Mayor Canfield will appoint Ex-Mayor William D. Brinnier, the present corporation counsel, a member of the board of education to fill the vacancy caused by the death of D. G. Atkins.

It is also understood that Mayor Crane will appoint a downtown woman and an uptown woman on the board. The appointment of Judge Gill as corporation counsel and the assuming of the office of mayor by Mr. Crane, the first of the year will leave two vacancies on the board of education, as both Mr. Gill and Mr. Crane are at present members of that board.

One Vacancy On Fire Board

There is one vacancy on the fire board as the term of Charles Lahl, Jr., expires the first of the year, and it is understood that if he desires it he will be re-appointed. Captain R. J. Hornbeck is secretary.

When Appointments are Known

Mayor-elect Crane's appointments will be made public the first of the year of the meeting of the new common council the morning of January 2, and it is quite likely that nothing authoritative as to the appointments to be made will be known until that time. In the meantime street rumor will continue to be busy naming the various "appointments."

The Water Board

There are no vacancies on the water board, and the only commissioner whose term expires is A. D. Rose. His term expires in May.

The present officers of the board will undoubtedly retain their positions under the incoming administration.

Kingston Post to Portugal in RECEIVE VISITORS STATE OF TURMOIL

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Dec. 15.—Bolshevik tendencies are sweeping through Portugal, according to reports reaching the foreign office today.

The country is without a government, the cabinet having been forced to resign on Wednesday.

The overthrow of the ministry was brought about by the Portuguese revolutionary committee which seated the cabinet at Lisbon after the recent revolution. It was headed by Major Pinto.

All parts of the country are disturbed and torn by unrest. Clashes between the hostile factions are occurring continuously.

It is possible that the suggestion of foreign intervention will be seriously considered by London, Paris, Madrid and Rome if affairs get worse.

PLANTS RAISED LIKE CHILDREN

At Butgevin Greenhouses Where Annual Cost Has Risen From
$2,000 in 1886 to $102,000 in 1921
—Vocational Talk at Rotary.

David Burgevin, who usually says it with flowers, gave the vocational talk at the Rotary Club luncheon on Wednesday, incidentally revealing the fact that he had reached the age of 56 years on Tuesday, December 13, at 7 o'clock a. m., having been born in Kingston, "glad to have been here ever since and hoping to stay here a long while yet to enjoy the fellowship and pleasant association of congenial companions."

In 1896 Mr. Burgevin and his brother took over the business founded by their father in 1852.
Their total expense the first year was less than $2,000. Since 1896 the plant has been increased from eight small wooden greenhouses to 35 modern iron structures and six concrete and iron sheds, covering a total area of three acres under glass.
In which are grown 40,000 geraniums, 20,000 carnations and 10,000 roses, each plant being renewed annually. The total expense last year was $102,000, of which $25,000 went for labor, $12,000 for coal, $700 for postage and $3,400 for boxes, strings and paper.

Success, Mr. Burgevin attributes to always trying to play fair with everybody, to please and to give better value than others for the money of the customer, not trying to do business for the moment, but inviting future trade by personal attention and generous treatment. Weather is a great element in the business of a florist. There is no substitute for the sun and there is only an eighth of an inch of glass between zero outside and 70 degrees above inside.
Plants are children of nature and require the care and attention that a child requires—fresh air, water, food, warmth and cleanliness. Hundreds of new insect pests develop and have to be fought.

SHAWL IN DEMAND

Spanish Decoration Popular for Evening Wear.

Emerald Green Favorite Shade, With Deep Border of Embroidery in Different Colors.

For evening use the Spanish shawl—richly embroidered—is in great demand. There is an art in wearing these big shawls. They may easily be made to look quite ordinary, or a clever woman can make them supremely elegant by the right twist of a fringed end. And fringe is of first importance in this matter.

A charming evening gown recently designed was lavishly trimmed with soft fringes, and over the dress was thrown a magnificent manton de manilla—or embroidered shawl made of thick crepe. These shawls are made in very rich colors, and the embroideries are so varied that the ensemble resembles the brilliant wing of a tropical butterfly.

Emerald green is a favorite color for these shawls, with a deep border of embroidery carried out in different shades of blue, red, orange and dark gray; or the shawl may have a white ground, white fringe and colored designs copied from an old Chinese picture.

When Chinese figures are introduced one often finds the tiny faces "ap-

DRESS FOR THE YOUNG GIRL

Appropriate to the young girl is the dainty belt of crocheted flowers which gathers this dressy little dress of plaited georgette, in deep warm red.

CRAZE FOR BLACK IN DRESS

Frocks and Wraps Alike Are Made of Dull-Surfaced Stuffs—Crepe de Chine Used.

There is a decided movement in the direction of long skirts—but women are not yet ready for the long skirt, which will be worn, if at all, on ceremonial occasions only, asserts a writer in Good Housekeeping. However, skirts everywhere are a bit longer—decidedly on the downward trend. Cherish, at the moment, oddly sponsors a skirt which is longer in the back than in the front.

The craze for black in dress is almost amusing. Frocks and wraps alike are made of black crepe de chine or crepe marocain—always the dull-surfaced stuffs. Black satin is worn but little, although we hear it is to be smart this winter. The greatest simplicity prevails, a frock being smart according to its simplicity. Thus do really smart women distinguish themselves from the nouveaux riches.

We see an attempt at color here and there at the races—a red hat or a colored frock under a black cloak. But in general the passion for black is so strong that even the embroidered collars and girdles which appeared on some of the models of the early season are now eliminated—the garments being made entirely in black. Gray hose is sometimes permitted.

Sleeves, if any, continue wide—the close sleeve being reserved for the close-fitting corse. While Paris couturiers abide by a straight and slender silhouette, varied effects are achieved in diverse interpretations of the sleeve. It is unusual to find a detail of dress take upon itself such a prominent place and thus attain a position of foremost importance. Throughout this mode the Japanese influence predominates.

KNICKERS, SKIRT, COAT, CAPE

Combination Affords Outfit for Both Street and Sport Wear—Fashions to Match the Hat.

One smart suit seen recently had knickers, a circular skirt, a hip length belted coat and a three-quarter length circular cape. Cape and skirt might be worn together if desired, with sport shirt of soft silk. The coat and skirt when combined make up a conventional street suit, and for vigorous sports or long-distance hikes the coat or cape with breeches complete a decidedly practical outfit.

Fashions have firmly established themselves as a charming adjunct to the costume and are now being designed to match or blend with the hat worn.

The range of reddish browns such as rust, henna and sumac are good looking and they are being vigorously featured. Black makes an effective trimming for these shades, and it is much seen, silk soutache braid in various widths appearing on many wool jersey dresses in reddish tones.

Bright Beads on Black.

Beads have been for a time relegated, as a trimming, to the cheaper type of dress, but have now been brought back for use on the more exclusive models. Colored jewel effects in the shades seen in garnets, rubies and emeralds are introduced into dark black dresses. The design are arranged in interesting ways so that the effect of this trimming, especially in the evening, is very beautiful, though it needs to be designed and carried out with artistic skill.

For Cool Days.

Wash dresses are just as popular for children during the cold months as in the summer time. Fabrics particularly favored are cotton, heavy cotton crepe, which is often combined with bright-colored acetate, unbleached muslin trimmed in contrasting or in aquiline motifs of bright-colored chevrons, stripes or dots, and both checked and striped gingham. Pinafores accompany most of the dresses for the child up to six years.

To Clean Wall Paper.

A good way to take old wall paper back the way it is by cleaning it with a brush. Dip a cloth into a bowl of warm water, wring it out, and rub the paper with an up-and-down motion. This

MEN OF TRINITY CHURCH
ENJOY A PIG ROAST

With Songs And Addresses By Two Ministers.

The men of Trinity M. E. Church enjoyed a pig roast in the lecture room of the church on Wednesday evening, about 50 men and two roasted pigs being present. The pigs were brought in by Frank W. Thompson and Samuel M. Watts who had caught them specially for the occasion, after a thrilling pursuit by automobile and on foot in the wilds of Dutchess county, and their arrival was greeted with loud applause. After the pigs had disappeared in sections and the Trinity men had swelled out correspondingly, Harry H. Flemming introduced the Rev. R. P. Ingersoll, pastor of the Wurts Street Baptist Church.

Mr. Ingersoll said he did not come as a preacher but as a layman, he having been a layman for four years. He had been in touch with laymen as a layman and a business man and had learned to modify some of the things preachers usually tell laymen. He had often heard it said it is hard to do business and be a Christian and he could now say, from experience, that it is hard to be a business man and a Christian—in the estimation of others, but not impossible to be a business man and a Christian in the sight of God and of those who make a right estimate.

This is the layman's day, said Mr. Ingersoll. The preacher is no longer the biggest man in the community. He finds many of his associates as well educated as he and shares with them the leadership that was once exclusively his. The church today does not grow because of what he does, but because of the work done by laymen. They have come to the front. They have the power and the ability and with that they must assume the responsibility. The future of the church is up to the laymen.

In a brief optimistic address by the Rev. P. C. Weyant, pastor of the church, a getting together of moral forces was urged. Hope of the future rests on moral power, the things for which the church has stood. There should be no line drawn between good men, be they inside or outside the church and they should unite and help to lift the world to a higher plane.

Singing led by Munroe Burger enlivened the proceedings of the evening, which closed with Mr. Weyant's address. Much credit is due the ladies of the church for the prompt and efficient manner in which they served the dinner.

CHANGED INCOME TAX PROCEDURE

The following statement is issued by Collector of Internal Revenue Cyrus Durey, 14th district of New York:

Important changes in income tax procedure, directed by Commissioner David H. Blair, are embodied in a treasury decision effective December 16, which provides for the prompt adjustment of claims for refund and abatement of federal taxes. Heretofore when an overassessment or overpayment was disclosed by the audit of an income tax return, the taxpayer was invited to file a claim for the abatement of the overassessment or the refund of the overpayment. When received the claim was registered and filed away until reached in due course for consideration. Because of the large number of such claims filed, delay in adjustment necessarily resulted.

After December 15, taxpayers will not be advised of their privilege of filing a claim for the refund of taxes which have been paid in excess of amounts legally due, but instead will receive a certificate of overassessment and a check in correction of the error, or if an assessment is outstanding against the taxpayer for income or excess profits tax, the overpayment will be applied as a credit against the assessment and the balance immediately refunded. This will be of distinct financial advantage to both the taxpayer and the government. It will do away with the necessity for the taxpayer filing a claim for refund, and will greatly reduce the amount of work to be done by the bureau in the adjustment of claims.

Taxpayers may continue to file claims for abatement and refund, but it is expected that the number of such claims filed each month will be greatly reduced. Efforts are being made by the bureau to adjust within six months all claims now pending and thereafter to keep the work current. The revenue act of 1921 provides that under certain conditions interest shall be paid upon claims from the date of the payment of the tax to the date of the allowance of the claim. The new procedure should greatly reduce the amount of interest which the government must of necessity pay upon claims for refund.

Mrs. Lillian Raizen, twenty-nine bride of six months and self-confessed slayer of Dr. Abraham Glickstein, who was shot to death at his office in Brooklyn, N. Y. in her confession to the authorities. Mrs. Raizen said she had known Dr. Glickstein since their childhood days. She charged that the slain doctor exercised a hypnotic influence over her; that he betrayed her that he tried to attack her even on her wedding eve and that fear he would catch her again drove her to kill him. "He destroyed my life and I destroyed his," she said.

THE BIRD.

"Someone" said Mr. Song Sparrow, spoke about us the other day. "Yes, this person spoke about us and spoke so nicely and so kindly, too."

"In fact, the person even made up a little song about us, and this was the song:

"Sometimes when all my clothes are worn
"And out of style and even torn,
"I listen to the birdies sing
"They don't care if I haven't a thing!
"For they sing just as sweetly for those "In old clothes
"As for those in the latest of fashions and bowls!"

"Now," said Mr. Song Sparrow, "wasn't that nice?"

"That was nice," said Master Song Sparrow.

"Yes," said Mr. Sparrow, "I am glad that people realize we don't sing for money."

"We don't sing any better for one person than another. We sing for the joy of singing and because we love music and the great world."

"We sing because we are happy and because we want to tell others that we are happy."

"We sing too, because we have so much to say which we can say better by singing than any other way."

"Then, too, we sing because we want to let people know that money

CHOICE INEXPENSIVE DISHES.

Serving the ordinary foods in an extraordinary way is a faculty worth cultivating.

Lamb chops with a little extra work may make a dish unusual and especially appetizing. Choose the loin chops and have them cut quite thick. Remove the skin and superfluous fat and with a sharp knife cut a pocket from the outside edge, reaching to the bone. Into this pocket place a stuffing made of moistened bread, sage, butter, salt, pepper and onion juice. Sprinkle the chops with salt and pepper and place in a hot oven to bake twenty to thirty minutes. Make a gravy from the fat in the pan to serve with the chops.

Another and more elaborate as well as more delicious dish is made by cooking both sides of loin chops until well browned. Season and set away to cool. Make a thick white sauce using four tablespoons of flour to three of butter and one cupful of milk. Season and add two tablespoons of finely minced ham. Spread the chops on both sides with this mixture, using the bone for a handle. Set away to become firm, then at serving time dip in egg and crumbs and fry in deep fat until a golden brown. This is one dish that will be often called for by those who have tried it.

Apples and Almonds.—Core and peel one-half dozen even-sized apples. Cook until tender but not broken, place in a baking dish and decorate with blanched almonds cut in quarters, the point inserted in the apple; use enough to make it look very much like a small porcupine. Sprinkle the apples with powdered sugar and set in the oven to brown the tips of the nuts. Serve hot or cold with whipped cream and sugar.

Cider Jelly.—Take two and one-half tablespoons of gelatin, add one-fourth of a cupful of cold water and let stand to soften. Pour one cupful of boiling hot cider over the gelatin and stir until dissolved, then add sugar to taste and pour into a mold. Serve plain or with whipped cream.

TRAVELING MAN HAS STOMACH RECONSTRUCTED

Fainting Spells and Distress Relieved by Jacques' Little Wonder Capsules

"Last October," writes Walter, "a traveling salesman of Richmond Springs, N. Y., 'when I was in Plattsburg I was bothered a lot with indigestion, dyspepsia and a bloated feeling brought on by excess gas. Fainting spells would attack me suddenly, and I was in dire distress. In seeking relief, I was advised to try JACQUES' LITTLE WONDER CAPSULES. This I did and before reaching the hotel that night for retiring I had decided relief. I felt so much better the following morning that I purchased an additional box, and found that one capsule following each meal has since reconstructed my stomach and now feel remarkably well. My brother-in-law recently had an acute attack of indigestion, something that often troubled him, and within a few minutes after swallowing two of the capsules, he was relieved."

If you are one of the suffering ones you can still save your stomach by using Jacques' Little Wonder Capsules. Just swallow one or two capsules and you will find prompt relief. The pure gelatin covering dissolves within one or two minutes after reaching the stomach, releasing the finely powdered medicines to do their effective work. One capsule aids in digesting 5,000 grains of food.

If you are bothered with indigestion, dyspepsia, catarrh of the stomach, sour stomach, dizziness after eating, gas, biliousness or constipation try this valuable prescription.

Twelve days' treatment costs but 60 cents. Jacques' Little Wonder Capsules are sold under a strict guarantee of satisfactory results or money refunded.

On sale by Wm. F. Dedrick, 308 Wall St., Kingston, N. Y.; or 60 cents by mail postpaid for 12 days' supply from Jacques Capsule Co., Plattsburg, N. Y.—Advertisement.

THE OFFICE CAT

A Scot may think he can live for ever on canned food—but canny!

Ye Ed Is Careful.

Chapman was shot through the stomach and probably wounded—Denver, Col.) Post.

Another thing the bride should learn is that the way her husband wants her to press his trousers is not by sitting in his lap.

When he is first married a man is so in love he does not know whether he is eating ambrosia or sawdust, but after the honeymoon the bride quickly learns how finicky the male brute is about his food.

A Real One.

"Pa, what is an optimist," asked Johnnie.

"It is a person who thinks the Irish question will be settled in a way that will be satisfactory to both England and Ireland, my son," replied his dad.

Retribution.

Beneath this stone is Ira Zinn, A perfect fiend for "cutting in." Just once too often, he transgressed. That's why he now lies here at rest.

The Office Cat offers this important joke, direct from dear old London, as the Office Cat's personal selection of the very best piece of jokemithery of the week.

Lunatic: "I've got a wonderful invention I want to patent."

His keeper (Kindly): "What is that?"

"I've invented an explosive coin that will blow up the telephone-box after the fifth wrong number."

Following Orders.

The teacher wanted some plums in order to give an object lesson to the class, and calling one of the small boys, she gave him ten cents and sent him to the fruit stand down at the corner.

"Before you buy the plums, Willie," she cautioned, "You had better pinch one or two to make sure they are ripe."

Little Willie fitted away. Soon he came back and smilingly put his hat filled with plums on the teacher's desk.

"Oh, thank you, Willie," said the teacher. "Did you pinch one of two as I told you to?"

"Did I? I pinched the whole bunch and here's your ten cents."

Some people seem to be satisfied if they can keep others from having a good time.

COUNTY ROAD WORK REVIEWED

Supervisors' Committee Reports On Highways Repaired Or Built During Year—Wilder Construction Recommended.

At a session of the board of supervisors held on Thursday evening, December 8, an interesting report was made by Supervisors Frank Brink, Charles C. Upright, Lester L. Sagen, and County Superintendent James F. Loughran, the highway officials of Ulster county, relating to the work of construction on three county roads during the year. The board of supervisors in December, 1920, and in April, 1921, by resolution adopted a provision of the state highway law to supervise construction of county roads designated by the board and appropriated $30,000 for road construction to give a similar amount. These roads were in the towns of Saugerties, Ulster and Wawarsing and the report is creditable to the town superintendents of those towns. The board of supervisors at a recent session voted to appropriate $55,000 for work on designated roads this year under the plan adopted last year. The report follows:

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by your honorable body on the 21st day of December, 1920, and on the 14th day of April, 1921, and in accordance with the provisions of section three hundred twenty A of the highway law, we have supervised and inspected on several occasions the work of the construction of the three county roads as designated by you in the above mentioned resolutions. We have also investigated and made a study of the several types of pavement being constructed by the adjacent counties. Your resolutions directed that there be constructed in the town of Saugerties a road indicated on the map showing the county road system for Ulster county as County Road No. 31. The total length of which was to be two and one-half miles, all in the town of Saugerties. We have the honor to report that the work done on this road was completed to the extent of two and twenty-eight one hundredths miles in length under the direction of Saugerties, the town superintendent of highways of the town of Saugerties. The road was constructed along the original Old King's Highway. Several of the grades were reduced and the pavement was constructed with a width of twelve feet of bituminous macadam. Proper shoulders have been constructed and adequate drainage provided.

Local field stones were used and the general appearance to the entire road constructed by Mr. Felton is, in our opinion, a very satisfactory job and is a credit not only to the county but to the highway organization of the town of Saugerties as well. There was provided in this case by your honorable body the sum of twenty-seven thousand dollars, which added to the sum of nine thousand dollars raised by the town, gave a total available fund of thirty-six thousand dollars for the project. The account of the supervisors shows that there has been expended the sum of twenty-two thousand seven hundred twenty-five dollars ninety-eight cents, leaving a balance on hand, available for additional improvement on this road of a sum of thirteen thousand two hundred four dollars two cents. The total amount of pavement completed was about sixteen thousand one hundred square yards which will indicate an average expenditure per square yard of one dollar forty-one cents or an average cost per mile of road a sum of nine thousand nine hundred sixty dollars.

There was constructed in accordance with your resolutions in the town of Ulster, a stretch of bituminous macadam pavement twelve feet wide for a distance of one and five-fifths one hundredths miles. This road was constructed under the personal direction of John Halwick, town superintendent of highways of the town of Ulster and credit is also due Mr. Halwick for the thorough and conscientious manner in which he supervised and directed the work under him. This road was constructed of stone taken from a blue stone quarry and although the mileage is not as great as was constructed by the town of Saugerties, a somewhat different proposition presented itself in the necessity of building a much heavier sub-base of large stones. The general appearance of this road which is designated as county road No. 41, is entirely satisfactory to your committee and we believe that the money appropriated by you in this case was also expended in a judicious and beneficial manner. The amount of surface of pavement constructed was in this case about eleven thousand square yards. The account of the supervisor shows that there was received by him under the direction of your Honorable Body, the sum of fifteen thousand dollars which added to the sum provided by the town of five thousand dollars, making a total available fund of twenty thousand dollars. There has been expended by the supervisor to date the sum of seventeen thousand nine hundred thirty dollars sixty-nine cents, which leaves an available sum for additional improvement on this road of two thousand six hundred sixty-nine dollars thirty-one cents. The average cost per square yard of pavement constructed in this case was one dollar sixty-three cents or an average cost per mile of road of eleven thousand five hundred dollars.

There was constructed in accordance with your resolutions a road in the town of Wawarsing, known as the Greenfield Road and designated as county road No. 44 on the map showing the county road system of Ulster county. This road begins at the village limits of the incorporated village of Ellenville. The work done consisted in the construction of a pavement of bituminous macadam fourteen feet wide for a distance of five thousand seven hundred ninety-seven feet and an additional stretch of five thousand eight hundred fifty-three feet twelve tenths, giving a total surface of pavement of about fifteen thousand eight hundred square yards or a total mileage of two and twenty-four one hundredths. This road was constructed under the direction of Herman S. Wells who was appointed in accordance with the Highway Law, by the County Superintendent of Highways with the approval of the Town Board of the town of Wawarsing. Although the obstacles which made themselves evident in the construction of this road were of an entirely different nature from those found in the other county roads, we feel that the town is to be complimented in having for the superintendent on this road, a man who gave so much thought and care as to produce a road so satisfactory to your committee. The stone used on this road was a softstone found in the adjacent country, and we believe that the stone is not entirely suitable for use in this character of construction and the crushing plant used did not produce stone free from dust, which is not in keeping with the proper practice, and before any additional funds are used on this road, it is suggested that the machinery be so repaired or replaced as will meet the requirements which call for a clean and evenly graded stone. The general appearance if the road is satisfactory to your committee, but there is a possibility of a rapid disintegration of the road surface due to the soft character of stone used.

There has been received by the supervisor from the county and state a sum of eighteen thousand dollars to which is to be added the sum of ten thousand dollars provided by a bond issue raised within the town, which gave a total available fund on twenty eight thousand dollars. There has been expended the sum of twenty four thousand four hundred twenty-four dollars ninety one cents leaving a balance available for additional work of three thousand five hundred seventy five dollars nine cents. There has been constructed about sixteen average expenditure per square yard of pavement, which would indicate an average expenditure per square yard of one dollar forty five cents or about ten thousand nine hundred dollars per mile of road.

If the same energy, fairness and zeal which has been evidenced in the construction of the above three mentioned county roads, is carried into future construction, it is the opinion of your committee that the money appropriated by your honorable body and the sums received from the state of New York and the several towns will be turned into a first rate investment for the county as a whole and will accomplish a great deal towards bringing about a condition which could not be cared for by state highway construction. It is therefore recommended that the maximum amount as prescribed by the State Highway Commission be raised by the county of Ulster for further construction and improvement of the roads in this county along the lines indicated on the map showing the county road system.

It is further recommended that the county of Ulster purchase two mechanical oil distributors together with two heating kettles, the same to be loaned the towns at such rental as may be found most advantageous. It is the opinion of your committee, that where it appears to the highway officials that the public interest will be better served by the construction of an additional two feet in width of pavement in addition to the twelve feet provided for by your resolutions, that the highway officials be authorized to direct the construction of such additional width.

When a Federal Bureau reminds you that children should not drink coffee or tea—
Why not think of your own health?

The Federal Bureau of Education includes in its rules to promote health among the Nation's school children, the warning that children should not drink coffee or tea.

The reason is well known. Coffee and tea contain drugs which stimulate and often over-stimulate the nerves, and so upset health.

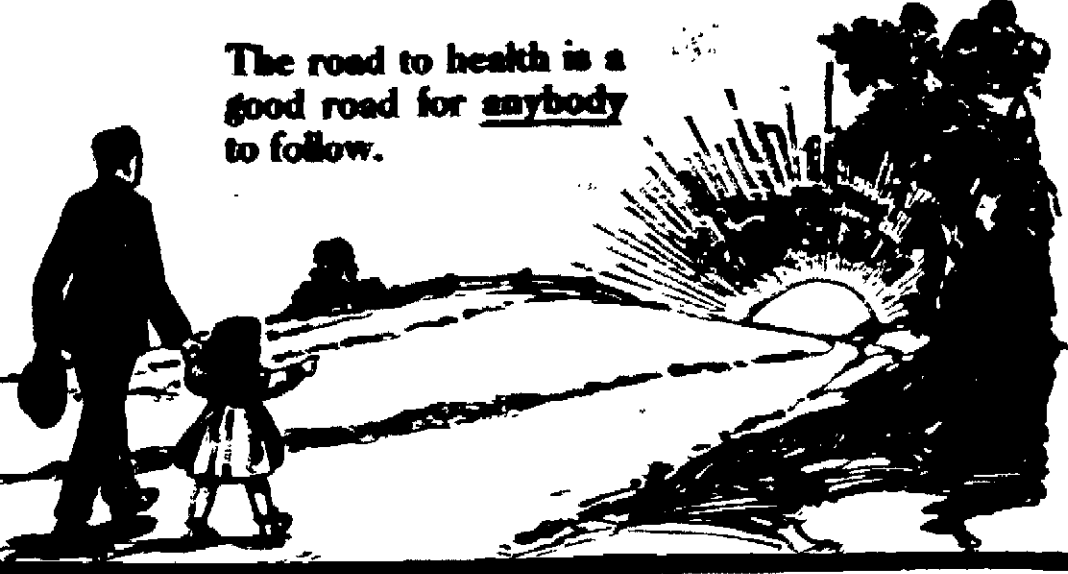

The harm is by no means confined to children, as any doctor can tell you. If health is valuable to childhood, it is valuable always. If harm to health should be avoided until bodies grow up, is it worth taking a chance with health when bodies have grown up?

You can have that delicious and satisfying cereal beverage, Postum, with any meal, and be safe—you, and the children, too. There's harm without harm in Postum.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (which dissolves instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water). Postum cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink with the meal by being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by all grocers.

The road to health is a good road for anybody to follow.

CALL LANDIS IN DRAFT PROBLEM

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Dec. 15.—Judge K. M. Landis is today facing the task of solving the biggest problem of his official career.
The members of the National and American Leagues have issued an open call to their 342,500-a-year commissioner to take the reins in the draft situation, and drive it to a favorable conclusion.
The resolutions adopted by the major leagues at their Wednesday meetings, though they were not worded exactly that way, call upon the commissioner to tackle the much-debated question of the draft with a vigorous mind and devise a scheme that will satisfy all parties to the present disagreement.

Steeled While You Wait.

When some men go to have their hats blocked, the hat man tells them to keep their hats right on their heads while the job is being done.

ON-A-JOB, OFF-A-JOB JIM!

Being a Story
Of how Jim got on a job and why he got off it again.

Jim had completed his two days with the electric truck, and sought the job of shaking the sugar into the "breakers," which was the next process towards its refining. The bags of solid raw sugar were emptied into spiked pits, nicknamed the "breakers" because the outfit was especially designed to break the huge lumps of sugar into smaller particles.

Two men seized a bag of sugar from the truck, slit it open, and held it over the pit, shaking back and forth until every hard particle had fallen into the breakers. From there it was shot through a tube into a receptacle and was lifted up to the top of the building, mixed with steam, and the actual refining began. When the superintendent learned of Jim's desire to try his hand at the bag shaking, he shook his head disapprovingly. "Look here, Jim, you couldn't do it. A man must be as strong as an ox to accomplish that stunt. Imagine lifting a hundred pound bag of that heavy wet stuff and shaking it in the air."

"I can do it for two days," argued Jim. "My muscles will hold out."

"Well, go ahead," So Jim continued down to the wharf, and presented Mr. Dwight's orders to the boss. With considerable hesitancy, Watson stationed Jim at one of the breakers and his arduous task began.

Before he had emptied the first bag Jim realized what he had got into. It was the most wearing job he had tackled in the 8 months of changing jobs. But there was a streak of stubbornness in his makeup that caused him to grit his teeth and keep on struggling.

At the close of the first day he could hardly pull his feet across the rough boards on the wharf, and he dared not think of the morrow. However, he was pleasantly surprised when morning came to find that his muscles seemed to feel no ill effects from the previous day's hard work, and he approached the refinery with alacrity.

Mr. Dwight stopped him. "I'm sorry, Jim, but we'll have to put you on another job today."

"Not today. I can't let yesterday's work go for nothing. You know, the will reads that I must hold down a job for two days, or it is marked off."

"Suppose the men refuse to work with you, what then?"
"You don't mean that partner of mine has complained?"
"Colson, yes. He says he had to bear the brunt of the work yesterday and that he doesn't intend to do so another day. He's been talking among the men and they've all put in their kicks. I'm sorry, but it's no go."

Jim meditated a moment, then grinned. "Tell me about Colson."

"He's married, has a big family, proud as Lucifer of his oldest boy, John—lad about 14."

Jim's grin broadened. "If he says he will work with me, may I?"
Gaining the superintendent's hearty consent, Jim shot out of the door and across the wharf to where Colson and his partner had already begun to shake the bags over the breakers.

"Good morning, Colson. I hear you find work too strenuous with me as a partner. I don't blame you for kicking, but believe me, I've got to finish my job. Since it is only fair to make up for your extra exertion, I'm going to make it right with you. What has son John been teasing for?"

Colson, who had kept his head turned away, turned like a shot. "How'd you know my John has been wanting a bicycle? I tell him there isn't any money for ought but food, but still he begs for a bicycle. What's that to you anyway?"

"You let me work with you today and the bike is his tomorrow."

"The man must be crazy," mumbled Colson, but he was not taking any chances on it. He pushed his mate away with his left arm, as he beckoned to Jim with his right.

"Come on, we've got to show signs of life. He wants a coaster brake on that bike, remember."

Family Protection— A Man's Duty

A MAN largely expresses his affection for his wife and children by providing, in various ways, for their well-being.

His ability to shield his loved ones, personally, may be limited by the span of his own life. He can hardly discharge fully his obligation to provide for his family, if he fails to take advantage of the opportunities presented, and to extend his plans and protection beyond his own life.

The resources this Company offers for shielding your family from business cares and worries are not dependent upon the abilities or limitations of an individual's capacity. They will protect your family adequately, beyond the period of any individual's life time.

We will be glad to send you a booklet, "Safeguarding Your Family's Future," which clearly sets forth the services this Company can render you in providing for your family's future comfort.

The United States Submarine S-43 sunk while on a trial trip off Penfield Reef, near Bridgeport, Conn. The forty men aboard escaped through a torpedo tube, indicated in the photo by an arrow, and were taken off by a passing tug. They had been trapped in the disabled submarine for more than twelve hours. A number of the crew were taken to the Naval Hospital in Brooklyn, N. Y., suffering from gas poisoning and exposure. Officials believe the accident occurred because someone was careless before her trip began and failed to properly fasten a deck manhole cover which was forced and held partly open by water pressure after she dived. The heroic work of nineteen-year-old Peter Dunne saved the lives of the crew. He wriggled through the torpedo tube and signaled for help. Captain Eugene Olson of the tugboat Socony, shown in the insert, responded and rescued the crew. The photo shows the how of the ill-fated undersea boat extending above the surface. A member of the wrecking tug crew may be seen entering through the torpedo tube from which the trapped sailors escaped.

This Christmas and Next

Many of us strive by hard work and strict attention to business to support our families, ourselves, and our loved ones, and to save certain sums of money for the "rainy days."

Many of us also find the Christmas season at hand without the wherewithal to furnish our families and our friends with the gifts, remembrances, and pleasures, that we had hoped, or intended to give. We feel sorry—and yet, after all—we can but blame our own shortsightedness.

For an account in the Christmas Savings Club of this Bank would have insured just the kind of Christmas you wanted to have.

ESCAPING STEAM DAMAGES STOCK

While a radiator in the upper lobby of the Kingston Opera House was temporarily disconnected by Opera House employees at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, the janitor of the building put on additional steam pressure in order to heat the opera house for the afternoon performance, and within a few minutes a deluge of steam and hot water began pouring in the store of Rosenthal & Braun, the ladies' tailors who occupy the ground floor corner of the building beneath the upper lobby.

Considerable excitement was caused for a time by the clouds of escaping steam. Plumbers from the B. Longhram Company at first were unable to stop the flow of steam and water, but managed to bank the fires under the boilers with ashes. Later they shut off the escaping steam and water. The steam and water resulted in considerable damage to the stock of Rosenthal & Braun.

Current Knowledge.

Students repeatedly excuse their delinquency in current knowledge by the statement: "Our college work keeps us so busy that we have no time to read the newspapers and magazines." Which naturally suggests a greater emphasis on the college responsibility of keeping the student interest in such phases of information thoroughly aroused. These older boys and girls are for the most part quite as human as the rest of us, and so manage to give attention enough to matters of primary interest. Students are being taught to answer quite glibly academic questions of a decidedly erudite character, while at the same time they are losing contact with the vital world about them. Seriously, we ought to know to what an extent this condition exists, and meet the issue shrewdly and fully.—Paul V. West in the Atlantic Monthly.

A Ball of Water.

A soap bubble is merely a hollow ball of water containing air. The soap partly dissolved, forms a very thin film or skin over the air which is endeavoring to force its way through it. This air exerts an equal pressure in all directions, and forces the soap film out at an equal distance from the center of the compressed air, thus forming a perfect sphere of ball. After the bubble has been floating about for a few moments, the water drips toward the bottom of the ball and collects there in drops. The weight of these drops pulls the bubble out of shape and increases the pressure of the air inside to such an extent that it breaks through the film and the bubble bursts.

Quite Obvious.

The class of backward children was being taught mental association of related objects. The teacher distributed a number of pictures and an equal number of titles for the pictures. When they had arranged the pictures and titles to their own satisfaction, she passed down the aisles and cleared the results. One little class had put the title "Nutting" under a picture showing a naked boy in a bath tub enjoying the warm water. The teacher failed to see any connection, but when the lad was questioned concerning his disposition of titles, he answered, "Why, ma'am, the boy was nutting on."—Columbian Dispatch.

Little-Known Seed.

A few miles west from the town of the Rosebuds is the Rosebud canyon. A good trail leads the two and a half of miles to this area will be in the future. It is a very fine area. The American country magazine in an article of "The Land of the Rosebuds." A possible region road reader Emerald Lake on West Rosebud. It is a lake which deserves to be popular for some nature made a place which is naturally attractive. The scenic value is excellent, the fishing is good, and around the lake there are mountain backdrops given in perfection.

Must Undergo Test.

It doesn't take much to see a boy from our original character to see a boy from our original character. Sometimes a boy of sickness discovers to us what we really are, as compared with the one we are. Sometimes a boy of sickness discovers to us what we really are, as compared with the one we are. To protect the depositors in Uncle Sam's Postal Savings Bank, the government has issued a Department that all depositors in the bank must be identified in the event postal savings certificates are lost. Hereafter anyone possessing a postal savings certificate must show the fingerprint of the certificate holder in the event the certificate is lost. The fingerprint is compared with the one on record, and if it matches the certificate holder receives the money on deposit. This shows the system placed in effect in the New York Post Office.
